About me:

I'm an executive entrepreneur with 20+ years' self-employment experience, focused on new business opportunities that boost revenue and profitability. I build strong teams, foster supportive environments, and develop strategic global relationships in logistics to drive growth.

ICQC is committed to establishing itself as a leading community in the DFW area through dedicated leadership. My objectives include completing the initial phase of the masjid, attaining financial independence, and adhering to sharia principles. The expansion of religious and academic programs for youth, along with the adoption of strategic initiatives, are regarded as essential components for sustainable growth.

My objective is to establish a robust foundation for ICQC, ensuring a well-balanced institution for future generations, InshaAllah, so they are equipped to address challenges related to its growth and development effectively.

I am formally announcing my candidacy for Shura in this year's ICQC elections. If selected, I will focus on advancing financial independence and empowering our community to build a more resilient future. I respectfully seek your support in achieving these goals InshaAllah!
